A Bedford, O., truck driver was critically burned when his truck burst into flames following a collision at 9 a. m. today on route 30 north between Upper Sandusky and Oceola.

He was taken to Bucyrus City hospital, state highway patrolmen reported. He isn't expected to live through the day.

In reports from other parts of the state, 16 persons were killed in Ohio over the weekend. Five of that number were killed Sunday in traffic accidents, two died in explosions and one death resulted from an accidental fall.

Eight accidents occurred in and near Marion over the weekend. Only one injury was reported. Five collisions were reported by city police, three by state highway patrol.

Driver Thrown Into Pool of Flaming Gas

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 6—A Bedford, O., truck driver was critically burned about 9 a. m. today when his steel laden tractor trailer crashed into a bridge abutment on U. S. Route 30-N seven and a half miles east of here.

Rushed to Bucyrus hospital suffering third degree burns over his entire body when he was thrown from his cab into a flaming pool of gasoline was Leonard J. Mauser, 26, an employe of the Federal Trucking company.

According to the Wyandot county sheriff's office and the state highway patrol investigating the accident, Mauser attempted to pass another tractor trailer. Both were going west.

Mauser's truck piled into the abutment of the bridge when there was not clearance for both trucks to get through at the same time. Climbing up the abutment of the concrete bridge the heavy truck caught fire when its under carriage and gas tanks were sheared off.

The second truck driven by Dudley Hall of Youngstown, O., also laden with steel managed to scrape through but caught fire when Mauser's truck was demolished. The left side was partially damaged by fire. Hall was unhurt.

A passing motorist, John W. Lawrence of Nevada and Hall dragged Mauser clear and rushed him to Bucyrus in the former's automobile.

The Nevada fire department was called to extinguish the flaming gasoline which had spread about the highway and destroyed Mauser's truck. State patrolmen were notified by the Wyandot county sheriff's office.

Steel castings were scattered about the scene of the accident blocking the highway at the bridge, located about two miles west of Oceola in Wyandot county.

Eight Accidents Reported Over Weekend

Eight traffic accidents occurred over the weekend in and near Marion and were reported by city police and state highway patrolmen today. Of the five reported by city police, only one person suffered serious injuries.

Mrs. Alma Smith of near Marion suffered lacerations on both knees when the car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, William James Smith, was involved in a collision on Delaware avenue at 10:45 a. m. Saturday with two trucks, city police reported.

According to reports, the trucks driven by James L. Hess, 31, of near Ashley and Donald Robert Weigreff, 32, of near Massillon, O., had stopped for a funeral which was entering the cemetery. Smith told police he was watching the procession and failed to notice that the trucks had stopped. His car crashed into the rear of Weigreff's truck, knocking it into the one driven by Hess. The front of Smith's car was badly damaged and the front and right rear of the Weigreff truck was damaged considerably. Minor damage resulted to the other vehicle.

Election Board Open Today For Last Chance To Register

Today is the last chance for voter registration in Marion before the November election.

The board of elections office in the Marion Building and Loan building will be open until 9 p. m. to accommodate last minute registrations and transfers.

Mrs. Nora Fetter, deputy clerk of the board, said that 125 persons registered Saturday and 87 transferred precincts. Mrs. Fetter reported numerous other Marion voters called at the board to check up on their qualifications to vote.

Absentee balloting began this morning with 15 voters who expect to be absent from their precincts on election day securing ballots, Mrs. Fetter said. Absentee balloting will continue until Oct. 30.

The board of elections is equipped to handle as many registrations and transfers in one day as the peak 2,800 it processed on the last day for registration in 1944, Mrs. Fetter said. She does not expect that many voters to register today, however.

2 HURT IN CRASH NEAR MT. GILEAD

Bus Driver Arrested, Fined After Accident.

Two Akron women were injured and a Dayton man was arrested as a result of an automobile-bus accident Sunday at 10:30 p. m. on route 42 about three miles east of Mt. Gilead, state highway patrolmen reported today.

Occupants of the car were Charles L. Hartlaub, 60, the driver, his son, Joseph Andrew, Mrs. Stella Hartlaub and Mrs. Tillie Rickey, 66, all of Akron.

According to patrolmen, Glen F. St. John, 24, of Dayton, was driving a bus owned by St. John's Transportation Co. west on Route 42 and crowded the eastbound Hartlaub car from the road, causing it to overturn and crash into a telephone pole.

Mrs. Hartlaub suffered a broken collar bone and Mrs. Rickey sustained internal injuries. They were taken by passing motorists to the Mansfield City hospital where they are being treated. The car was damaged considerably.

St. John pleaded guilty when charged with forcing the car from the road and was fined $50 and costs by Mayor R. G. Booher of Mt. Gilead. There were 31 passengers in the bus at the time.

AFL OPENS MEETING AT SAN FRANCISCO

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6—Start of the AFL's 66th convention today was enlivened by the unspoken threat that John L. Lewis and William L. Hutcheson might team up to lead more than 1,200,000 miners and carpenters in a "walk" out of the federation.

Both have critical differences with their colleagues in the AFL which throws them together on the defensive in a new dispute endangering the federation's unity.

The situation was so tense as the 750 delegates gathered that extra pains were being exerted by President William Green to settle the differences in advance.

The federation has about 7,600,000 members.

Lewis blocked the use of national labor relations board facilities for all 105 AFL unions when he alone among the 15 executive council members refused to sign a Taft-Hartley affidavit disavowing communism.

Hutcheson is locked in a bitter controversy with several AFL unions over job jurisdictions in Hollywood movie studios.

The convention, after listening to speeches today, will be recessed until Wednesday to permit the executive council to devote all day Tuesday to the Hollywood issue. The council will not take up the "Red" affidavits again until Thursday.

Reds of Nine Nations Combine Against U. S.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Oct. 6—The central Communist party of the Soviet Union and its counterparts in eight other European nations served notice today that they do not intend to give an inch in dealing with the United States.

This program of no concessions was promulgated in a manifesto setting up a new Communist organization which aroused in some observers memories of the old Comintern—the Communist international formed by Russian Communists in 1919 to further worldwide revolution. It was declared dissolved four years ago, in the middle of the war.

Moscow papers, after printing the declaration Sunday, made no editorial comment today.

The manifesto rallied Communists of the nine nation for an all-out fight against the Marshall plan and what it described as United States imperialism.

Communist parties of two Marshall plan nations, France and Italy, were included.

In effect, the statement served notice of the Communists' intention to wreck, if possible, the Marshall plan for European aid and the Truman doctrine to combat totalitarianism.

It proclaimed that the world had been divided into two camps—led by the Soviet Union and the United States—and called upon European Communists to defend the "national sovereignty of their peoples against U. S. aggression."

Pravda, Communist organ, said that formation of the new international organization was completed at a hitherto unheralded meeting in Poland last month, attended by Communist leaders from Russia, France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Hungary.

To implement the work of the organization, an "information bureau" is to be established in the Yugoslav capital at Belgrade. To it will be assigned, the announcement said, the task of "exchanging experiences" and, if necessary, of "coordinating the activities of the Communist parties on a basis of mutual agreement."

Russia was represented at the Warsaw conference by two of its top politburo leaders—Col. Gen. Andreu Zhadanov and Georegi M. Malenkov.

(The politburo is the political bureau of the central committee of the all-union Communist party.)

Zhdanov was among the Communists who signed the resolution in Moscow in May, 1943, calling for dissolution of the Comintern—the international organization founded by Lenin in 1919 to organize the working class parties of the world.

(Dissolution of the Comintern was acclaimed at the time in many Allied countries as signaling a greater cooperation between Russia and the western world. Premier Stalin himself said the move would clear the way for "future organization of a companionship of nations based upon their ability.")

Move Called Necessary

The published text of a declaration issued by the Warsaw conference said that formation of the new Communist organization was necessitated by international developments which had resulted in a split between the western and eastern worlds.

The declaration blamed the split upon "imperialist politicians" in the United States, whom it accused of trying to provoke a new war.

Pravda said that besides the two Russian representatives those attending the Warsaw conference included:

France—Jacques Duclos, secretary of the French Communist party, and Etienne Fajon; Italy—Luigi Longo and Eugenio Reale; Romania — Ann Pauker and Gheorgiu Dej; Poland—Vice Premier Wladyslaw Gomulka and Minister of Industry Hilary Minc; Yugoslavia—Vice Premier Edvard Kardelj and Milovan Djilas; Bulgaria—V. Tchernov and V. Poptomov; Hungary — M. Farkache and J. Revai; Czechoslovakia—R. Slanski and S. Bastovanski.

European Countries Take Red Move Calmly

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 6 — Western European governments and most newspapers withheld comment today on the announcement that Communists of nine nations had organized a streamlined Communist International to oppose what it called "American imperialism" and war threats.

Relatively few "scare" headlines appeared in the western press.

An authoritative British informant said the foreign office would give the declaration "close attention and study."

One unofficial source said the British would "search for any grounds for a formal complaint." He acknowledged it was doubtful that government action would be taken since the Communist group was formed on a political level, ostensibly at least.

The comment raised the unanswered question: to whom could a government complaint be made?

The Communist announcement denounced what it termed "the policy of treason of rightist socialists," and named Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin for the category.

De Gaulle Calls U. S. Counterweight to Russ

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct. 6—Gen. Charles De Gaulle told a political rally yesterday that "the United States is a counterweight to the world ambitions of the Soviet Union."

"There is not a free man in the world who does not consider this as salutary," he added.

De Gaulle made his statement in an address delivered before a crowd of 150,000 at a political rally at the Vincennes race track, during which he called for defeat of Communist candidates at France's municipal elections two weeks hence.

He warned his hearers that two-thirds of Europe already is "implacably directed by the Soviet dictatorship" and described France as "a threatened country."

12,000 Fans Line Up For Bleacher Seats At Last Series Tilt

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6 — Manager Bucky Harris of the New York Yankees made a last minute pitching switch to Rookie Frank (Spec) Shea today instead of Floyd (One Hit) Bevins to oppose Hal Gregg of Brooklyn in the seventh and final game of the World Series before another big 72,000 crowd.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—Some 12,000 noisy bleachers fans began surging into sun-bathed Yankee stadium today four and one-half hours before the opening of the seventh and final game in the World Series between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Four amputee World War II veterans led the shouting, seething line of fans who came early to take over 13,800 bleachers seats at $1 a head. They carried thermos bottles, lunches and blankets, and more than 100 had been in line since last night to see the decisive game of the series.

Stadium attendants moved the amputees to the head of the line, which stretched four and and five abreast for five blocks and snarled traffic. Police said it was the noisiest bleacher crowd of the subway series.

The weather man promised perfect weather—sun, a blue sky and temperatures in the middle seventies. It was expected that Hal Gregg would open as pitcher for the Dodgers and Floyd Bevens for the Yankees.

SAAR VOTES TO BE PART OF FRANCE

By The Associated Press

SAARBRUECKEN, Oct. 6—Official returns showed today that Saarlanders — who 12 years ago voted to join Nazi Germany—had overwhelmingly elected a parliament pledged to make the coal-rich Saar basin west of the Rhine an autonomous part of France.

The German speaking residents of the industrial area yesterday gave a vote of more than nine to one, returns indicated, for three political parties which have advocated merging the entire economic life of the 726-square-mile Saar with that of France.

Of the 50 deputies chosen, 43 were from the three parties favorable to such a move—the Christian People's party, Social Democrats and right wing Democrats.

The Communists, who polled only 8.4 per cent of the vote, received but two seats.

Morral Grid Fan Stricken

C. E. Stouffer Suffers Fatal Heart Attack at Cleveland Stadium.

Charles E. Stouffer, 75, retired Morral farmer suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday as he entered the Cleveland stadium to see the Brown-Yankee football game. He was one of two men to be stricken fatally at the game.

Accompanied by a neighbor, Carl Washburn, Mr. Stouffer was stricken just as the two men were preparing to enter Gate B to join the 100,000 spectators jammed in the stadium. He was rushed to Charity hospital by Mr. Washburn and died a half hour later.

Francis J. Heydorn, 40, of Cleveland also suffered a fatal heart attack while hurrying to the stadium. Heavy traffic prevented a companion from rushing Heydorn to Charity hospital in time to receive medical attention which might have saved his life, according to news reports.

Mr. Stouffer, a lifelong resident of Marion county was born Feb. 28, 1872, at Morral to Jackson and Matilda Morral Stouffer. He was married Jan. 20, 1904, to Miss Alice McClain, now deceased. He was a member of the Morral Baptist church.

Surviving are a son, Clifford M. Stouffer of East Center street, a foster daughter, Mrs. Bernice Holzworth of Morral, one sister, Mrs. Laura Starkel of Morral and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Morral Baptist church with Rev. Marvin Crabtree officiating. Burial will be in Grand Prairie cemetery. The body will be returned to the late home where friends may call after noon tomorrow until 1:30 p. m. Wednesday when it will be taken to the church.

U. S. Exporting Grain Record

History-Making Total Lies Behind Request for Public To Save Food.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 6—Beginning with today the American people will be subjected to a campaign urging them to eat and waste less food.

Most Americans will have only a vague notion how the present food situation developed.

Since the end of the war in Europe—now more than two years ago—America has exported more grain than any other country in the world's history. This is not a normal situation. Before the war we were a comparatively small exporter.

3 Others Lead

In the year prior to the war Canada, Argentina and Australia exported more grain than America. In the past two years we have shipped abroad about as much as the other countries combined.

This grain has not been exported to western Europe alone. Operating through UNRRA, we shipped wheat to countries which today are within the Russian sphere of influence—Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary.

This export program has wiped out a tremendous grain surplus, leaving us with depleted stocks. On July 1, 1942, we had stocks of 632,000,000 bushels of wheat. Despite record smashing crops, this carryover had fallen to 82,000,000 bushels by July 1 this year.

The current campaign states that food must be preserved for shipment to western Europe, here it is desperately needed. But western Europe does not get all our grain.

U. S. ships about as much grain to countries outside western Europe as in it.

Many Countries Included

Our export allocations for November, the latest announced, include 63,000 tons for India. In addition, we will export to Mexico, Brazil, Cuba, Egypt, Japan, Korea and the Philippines, among others. None of these countries is in western Europe.

The big countries in western Europe are the United Kingdom, France, Italy and the United States-British occupation zone of Germany. They did not grow enough grain to support themselves before the war.

European populations, according to the population reference bureau of Washington, increased during the war. Europe ended the war with 11,000,000 more people—more hungry mouths to feed—than before the war.

Meanwhile, our own winter wheat crop is in danger. The southwest right now is said to be building up to a drought. Rain is urgently needed.

If much of the wheat from this year's crop is drained from this country, and if we have a poor crop next spring, grain experts believe the present lower standard of living will appear mild compared to wheat we will have to go through.

Butchers Line Up With Truman Plan But See No Need

By The United Press

Spokesmen for most of the large packinghouses and wholesale butchers today questioned the need for meatless days, but agreed to cooperate with President Truman's food conservation program.

The American Meat Institute, speaking for the packers, said the industry "seriously questions whether 'meatless days,' or 'eggless days,' or 'poultryless days' would correct the situation.

"The current problem—the problem of the future—must be solved at the farm level where grains and livestock are produced," the institute said.

The institute said it felt that "meat could be provided for American consumers now and in the years ahead and at the same time bread grains can be made available for feeding hungry people overseas."

"Of course, we shall do all we can to help the President's announced ideas," the institute said.

Jack Kranis, president of the National Meat Industry council, representing the wholesale butchers, said the council opposed meatless days on the ground that it might lead to heavier meat consumption.

He suggested a return to price controls.

He said many families, through the use of fish, poultry and vegetable dinners, already were eating meat on fewer than five days a

"SELF-DENIAL" DRIVE STARTS

President Requests Citizens To Save Slice of Bread Per Day.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—An unprecedented "self-denial" offensive against hunger in western Europe was touched off today by President Truman's call for food sacrifice as an American "contribution to peace."

Mr. Truman asked all citizens to go without meat on Tuesdays, without eggs and poultry on Thursdays, and to save a slice of bread a day.

He "demanded" of the grain exchanges the raising of the down-payment requirement on grain purchases to 33 1/3 per cent to thwart what he called the inflationery operations of "gamblers in grain."

Asks Liquor Shutdown

A distiller described as a "bolt from the blue" another drastic White House request—that the liquor industry shut down for 60 days "at the earliest possible moment." Two whisky-makers predicted the answer would be yes.

Going direct to the people by radio and television, Mr. Truman joined his citizens' food committee chairman, Charles Luckman, in a grave and sometimes sharply voiced plea for conservation lest prosperity at home and peace in the world be "needlessly lost."

And—as Luckman today began mobilizing an organization, inside and outside the government, to wage a campaign of near-wartime dimensions—at least one influential Republican gave ungrudgingly endorsement.

"It's a good program," said Rep. Hope (R-Kan), chairman of the house agriculture committee.

And Chairman Bridges (R-NH), just before the broadcast, called his senate appropriations committee to meet Nov. 18 on the President's $580,000,000 proposal for emergency aid to western Europe. This is the money which Mr. Truman says France and Italy must have to assure that they will survive the winter as free and independent countries.

4-Point Program

The President asked housewives to memorize this "simple and straightforward program:

"▶ Use no meat on Tuesdays.

"▶ Use no poultry or eggs on Thursday.

"▶ Save a slice of bread every day.

"▶ Public eating places will serve bread and butter only on request."

Mr. Truman revealed that the first lady has issued those instructions to the White House staff, and he has ordered the Army, the Navy and all government-run eating places to follow suit.

"The battle to save food in United States," he said, "is the battle to save our own prosperity and to save the free countries of western Europe. Our self-denial will serve us in good stead in the years to come."

Secretary of State Marshall underscored that thought. Food today is foreign policy, he said, adding:

"The connection between the individual American and world affairs is unmistakably clear—our policy has entered the American home and taken a seat at the family table."

3 Holidays May Snag Poultryless Thursdays

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—President Truman's appeal to Americans to eat no poultry on Thursdays jumped up against three big turkey-eating holidays in a row—Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's.

All three holidays are on Thursday this year, but the White House said today it has no present plans to make exceptions in the appeal made as part of the national food conservation campaign.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross was asked whether any special dispensation will be granted for eating turkeys on those days.

"I haven't heard anything about that," Ross replied. "That bridge will be crossed when we come to it."

To a question whether there was an awareness, while the food program was being drawn up, that three major holidays fell on poultry-less Thursday, Ross repied he had not heard it mentioned.

William Case of Aurora, Ore., director of the Oregon Turkey Improvement association, complained last night that the present program would force the turkey industry into bankruptcy, because 50 per cent of the business comes from Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's sales.

Accused Pair Freed by Jury

California Lovers Acquitted of Killing Girl's Parents; Deny They'll Wed.

By The Associated Press

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 6—Passionate lovers of a few months ago, olond, buxom Louise Overell and George (Bud) Gollum are innocent of charges that they murdered her parents, a jury has decided, but their hearts no longer beat as one.

No sooner had a six-man, six-woman jury decided late yesterday that the young college sweethearts were innocent of killing Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, wealthy Pasadena socialite leaders, than the resolute Louise declared she was through with Bud.

"I can assure you there will be no marriage," she said.

Her statement, given to reporters without hesitation, came after jurors returned their verdict after two days of deliberation and 19 weeks of trial. It brought a wild demonstration of cheering and whistling from the jam-packed courtroom an thousands of others in streets below.

The prosecution had charged that the 18-year-old Louise and 21-year-old Bud were responsible for the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Overell, whose bodies were found aboard the yacht Mary E when it was blasted by dynamite on the murky night of last March 15.

Louise is the sole heir to the half million dollar estate left by her father, who was head of a Los Angeles loan company, and her mother.

The two had professed undying love for each other in letters they exchanged in jail after their arrest. They had planned a wedding for last April 30, her 18th birthday.

Bud was gallant in acquittal. He said he was going on a long auto trip. Will Louise? Well, he would go with her if she wanted to go along, but if she didn't he was going anyhow.

YOUR HEALTH

Penicillin Treatments

Almost from the moment when the wonders of penicillin were discovered, I have been asked repeatedly: "Doctor, why can't I use penicillin at home?"

Sufferers from sinus infection were particularly interested. Because they had heard of penicillin's amazing ability to cure pneumonia and other diseases of the respiratory tract, they wondered if they could not use it to root out the germs causing infection in the air passage-ways connected with the nose.

Today I am happy to report that they can. For the first time—and after many trials—a method has been worked out whereby penicillin in adequate amounts can be put into the sinuses without the use of special apparatus. This means a great saving in time for both doctor and patient because the method is so simple that once the patient has learned it, he can use it at home as often as necessary, thus saving himself many trips to the doctor's office.

This does not mean, however, that he can do without a doctor. In the first place, not all cases of sinus trouble can be treated successfully in this way. In the second, the doctor must decide the strength of the penicillin solution to be used and how often it is needed.

And not only this. Even though the method of getting penicillin into the sinuses is simple, there's a trick to it. It is doubtful if the patient could manage it correctly unless first shown in detail by his doctor just what to do.

Usually a weak solution of penicillin in salt solution is recommended. The patient lies with his head bent back over the edge of the bed. Then the weak penicillin in salt solution is put into each nostril. From one to one and a half teaspoons of this solution is put in each nostril with an eye dropper. The nose is then firmly closed with the thumb and fingers and the patient tries to draw in his breath from four to six times. The procedure is repeated three or four times a day.

It has been found that with this treatment, recent infection of the sinus will disappear within two to four days.

This method of treatment is not used in the ordinary every-day "cold in the nose." The reason is that the average cold disappears by itself in about a week and no treatment is necessary. It is only when the sinuses become infected secondary, or following a cold, that this treatment of penicillin solution in the nose finds its greatest field of usefulness.

When the front group of sinuses are the seat of infection they can be more readily reached by the weak solution of penicillin in salt solution if the chin is turned toward the shoulder of the side of the affected sinuses at the time the solution is instilled into the nostrils. First the sinuses on one side are treated and then those on the other are treated if they, too, are infected.

It would appear that this treatment is easily carried out much quicker and much more effectively than most in clearing up stubborn sinus infection, and well worth a trial in many cases.

Answer: It is inadvisable for your husband to use alcoholic beverages if he has diabetes. I suggest that you discuss this matter with his physician and request that the danger of this practice be explained to your husband.

Lesson on How NOT To Run Coal Mine Costs Writer $3.50

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—The following information on how NOT to run a coal mine cost me $3.50, cash. You'll have to decide whether I was stung.

Capital correspondents (I must report for background purposes) have discovered by long experience that one of the best ways to pry news from a big-wig is to soften him up with food. So we gave our man ham, spinach, and roasted potatoes; coffee and vanilla ice cream. That's where my money went for my lunch and my prorata share of his.

The question then arose as to whether he would talk on the record, or off. "On" meant that he'd be identified in print and (he being a cautious soul) that he wouldn't say much. "Off" meant that he'd remain anonymous and hence would say exactly what he thought, with a minimum of quibbling.

The reporters, faced with the problem of getting the most for their investment, chose "off." So I can identify him only as a very important person, or Vip for short. Now go on with the story:

Vip, who'd been in Europe trying to learn how best to help our allies, said he supposed that England never did have anything to export, except brains and coal.

Not Doing So Well

"They're not doing so well with either one, are they?" demanded an irreverent correspondent.

"They've still got plenty of both." Vip replied judiciously, "but their production for export now leaves something to be desired."

He then got off the subject of British brains and took up British coal. The situation is one that would give John L. Lewis the Heebies. Seems that the better the mine in England, and the more modern its equipment, the lower the production.

"I'm sure I don't know the answer," Vip said. "I thought it was simple, but when I got over there I learned that each coal mine has its own, individual union. When a man moves from one mine to another, he loses all his seniority rights. And some of these miners are digging in the same shafts their great-grandfathers worked in.

"So they refuse to move. And while there are a few modern coal mines in the Midlands it is very difficult to get experienced workers into them. And even when that is accomplished, they do but little work. I asked one of these men, coming out of an ultra-modern colliery. Why?

"He said 'if these folks have all this money to make an elegant coal mine like this, then they don't need any special hard work from me'."

Vip Gulps

That caused Vip to gulp. And then he began talking to British hot-shots, both in and out of the Labor government. They can't decide whether they want to borrow any more dollars or not.

"Some think that another loan would be a good idea, Vip said, "but others came to me with tears in their eyes and said please, if I had any influence in America, to see that they got NOT another dollar. They felt they could work out their own affairs and be better off in the long run, if they quit depending on us."

While Vip was about it, he took a careful look around France and Germany. What France needs, he said, is a government in which the people will have more confidence. What Germany needs is a chance to earn her own living.

"I was amazed to learn two years after the war that for every 10 Germans there are only nine pairs of shoes," he said. "We insisted that the Germans surrender unconditionally. That made us conquerors responsible for directing them, for telling them what to do and how to do it. The sooner we realize this, the better for Europe and the rest of the world."

End Vip's report. I hope the auditor will decide my $3.50 was well spent.

U. S. Enters Judgment Against 8 Rail Firms

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 — The justice department today announced the entering of a consent judgment at Hammond, Ind., in the government's anti-trust action against eight manufacturers of railway springs and springs plates and a trade association in which they hold membership.

Attorney General Clark described the judgment, in the U. S. district court at Hammond, as "eliminating restraints in the manufacture and sale" of these products.

He said the judgment was entered against American Locomotive Co. of New York City; American Steel Foundries, Hammond, Ind.; Baldwin Locomotive Works, Eddystone, Pa.; Crucible Steel Company of America, New York City; Pittsburgh Spring and Steel Co., Pittsburgh; Union Spring and Manufacturing Co., New Kensington, Pa.; Universal Railway Devices Co., Chicago; Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Corporation, Glassport, Pa., and Railway and Industrial Spring Association, Pittsburgh.

Van Aken Type Asked For Ohio Labor Laws

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4—Labor control legislation suggested to the 1949 general assembly by the newly created Ohio labor study condition will be modeled after the vetoed Van Aken bill.

The nine-member commission yesterday decided to use the Van Aken bill as a model and instructed its executive secretary, Robert Newlon, to prepare abstracts of the measure Gov. Thomas J. Herbert vetoed.

An item-by-item listing of the governor's objections, similarities to the Taft-Hartley act, labor control measures of other states, and individual commission members suggestions also were to be prepared by Newlon for commission study.

Chairman Fred G. Reimers of Cincinnati said the commission would meet after Newlon's report is prepared.

SURFACE TREATING OF STREETS STARTED

Waldo Firm Begins Application of Tar and Stone.

The S. G. and W. Construction Co. of Waldo began work Friday on surface treating city streets in accordance with a contract awarded to that firm by the board of control July 18.

E. O. Uncapher, safety service director, stated the contract, amounting to an estimated $13,652.50 provides for the application of approximately 30,000 gallons of road oil to macadam streets and approximately 40,000 gallons of asphalt emulsion and 14 tons of limestone chips to paved streets.

The road oil was applied during August and application of the surface treatment was started Friday morning. If weather conditions permit, the work should be completed this week. The first application of bituminous material and the spreading of chips has been completed on North Greenwood street and work on Oak street is now in progress.

Other streets listed for surface treating are South Vine, Mary, Lee, Columbia, Windsor and East Washington streets, Blaine, Bellefontaine, South Seffner, and Irey avenues and Vernon Heights boulevard. The surface treating being done on this year's program is being applied to streets which are deteriorating becauses of age and use. The application will seal cracks in the pavement thus keeping out water which freezes, causing disintegration. It will reduce maintenance costs and produce smoother surfaces on old brick streets which are included in the program.

A recent development being used as a dust preventive in connection with surface treating is the application of what is called RS-0 to the limestone chips approximately three days after they are applied. This application will be used in the present work and will eliminate the temporary dust conditions which have been present previously.

Senator Sees Chance For Some Tax Relief

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—Senator O'Conor (D-Md) held out hope today that taxpayers eventually will be relieved of some overlapping taxation by federal, state and local governments.

The Maryland senator told a reporter that congress members who attended a recent Chicago conference with 11 governors "unanimously agreed" that the federal government "should take the first step by giving up certain tax fields to the states."

"We now have federal, state and local taxes pyramiding in certain fields," O'Conor said. "If we can get an agreement among these various tax bodies to operate in certain areas it will mean eventual tax reduction."

O'Conor said that other senators active in the move to separate state and federal taxes are Hawkes (R-NJ), Martin (R-Pa), Thye (R-Minn) and Bricker (R-Ohio). All except Hawkes are former governors.

Marion's Role in a Great Service

LAST year Marion county's participation in the national "Employ the Physically Handicapped week" campaign was recognized as outstanding and there is every indication that it will be equally notable this year. The week's program started yesterday and will continue through next Saturday.

The fine record achieved in this community has been made possible by the cooperative efforts of the Marion committee, business and industrial concerns and the local office of the Ohio State Employment Service.

National "Employ the Physically Handicapped week is an observance authorized by congress and supported by the American Federation of Physically Handicapped and other interested organizations.

The week's primary purpose is to inform employers of the availability and employability of the handicapped. Also important is its mission of bringing to impaired men and women the facts they should know about services available to them for job placement, rehabilitation and training.

Employed in useful work, impaired individuals help not only themselves but contribute to the community output of goods and services. Placed in the right job, such an employe works with his impairment neutralized and becomes a diligent, conscientious worker. It is estimated that the nation has 1,500,000 physically handicapped persons who are not working but are employable. Employers would do well to look into the manpower possibilities in this group.

Do Whatever's Necessary

PRESIDENT TRUMAN is up against a tough proposition in trying to revive the crisis psychology of the New Deal era. He'd better leave that sort of thing to those who know how to do it—Paul Revere, for example, or Franklin D. Roosevelt, who maintained a state of public emergency continuously from his inauguration to his death.

Mr. Truman would be well advised, in other words, to adjust himself to the probability that national psychology has changed, his countrymen, having survived what was sometimes called a domestic revolution, a world war, and who are now surviving, after a fashion, a ruinous inflation, are pretty well convinced they've seen almost everything. They aren't emergency-minded any more.

This circumstance, if interpreted correctly in Washington, might have more bearing on the problem of meeting Russian imperialism halfway, or a little better than halfway, than all the frenzied drum-beating and high-pressure rousing that a whole corps of public relations experts could think up. It might prompt the Truman administration to proceed boldly to do whatever's necessary, instead of waiting for publicists to create an atmosphere of public opinion favorable to its aims—assuming that it had them.

For 15 years the American people have been told that virtually everything that presented itself as a national problem constituted an emergency, a very grave emergency, an unprecedented emergency, or a minor or major crisis. Perhaps they did, but emergencies and crises are relative.

There was a general abandonment of the psychology of emergency after the end of the war. That is what Mr. Truman and his advisors must deal with now. The people are tired of being told that every important decision made in Washington is a turning point, an unprecedented strain on the capacity of public officials. Apparently, the kind of decisions referred to will be routine for many years to come. At least the people seem to be prepared to deal with them on that kind of basis, which will explain to the administration's wolf-criers why their cries of warning may be greeted with stony silence. The American people simply cannot spare the time to have mass hysterics every time the White House has a problem to solve.

Stranger Than Fiction

THE Army's announcement that 24 prisoners of war still are at large in this country opens speculation as to just how they have fit themselves into the pattern of everyday life. Having escaped detection this long, some may pass the remainder of their lives here unless they run afoul of the law or incur the enmity of those who know their background. Some probably will achieve considerable prosperity in this land where they are unwelcome interlopers. Doubtless some have married women who helped orient them in American ways.

If a novelist or a scenario writer were to base a story on a prisoner of war escaping and making a permanent place for himself in an American community, he would have a formidable task making such a tale believable. Each of these 24 may truthfully say, "I could write a book about my experiences—but nobody would believe it."

A Bit of History

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Evidence People Aren't Always Told Everything.

IT IS always beneficial to go back to history for an understanding of what is happening now. For instance, we find ourselves involved in the organization of a western bloc of nations which we are asked to support to the tune between $19,000,000,000 and $22,000,000,000. We are also asked to eat less, at a time when Russia reports a bumper crop and the French peasant refuses to sell his wheat because he dislikes the money of his own government. Actually, we know little about all the maneuvers, except that we are constantly faced by crises.

The point I wish to make is that the American people know so little of what is done in their name—they are told so little—that they are committed to expenditures of wealth and life unnecessarily, and I should like to cite General George Marshall as my witness. Appearing before the Pearl Harbor committee of congress, he said:

". . . Had they (the Japanese) not attacked on Dec. 7, had they waited, for example, until Jan 1, there is a possibility that they would not have launched the attack. I do not know, because it appeared quite a definite possibility that Russia might get to her feet, which she did."

Hoped for Delay

During subsequent examination Senator Brewster asked:

"You and Admiral Stark had both concurred in hoping that decision might be deferred for at least two or three months?"

General Marshall replied: "That was our great desire."

A plan of action had been worked out at a conference in Singapore concerning which the American people knew nothing. In other words, prior to Pearl Harbor, prior to a declaration of war, this country and Great Britain were acting jointly in the far eastern situation. Two messages from Churchill to Roosevelt confirm this:

"Your message about Japan received tonight. Also full accounts from Lord Halifax of discussions and your counter project to Japan on which foreign secretary has sent some comments. Of course, it is for you to handle this business and we certainly do not want an additional war. There is only one point that disquiets us. What about Chiang Kai-Shek? Is he not having a very thin diet? Our anxiety is about China. If they collapse our joint dangers would enormously increase. We are sure that the regard of the United States for the Chinese cause will govern your action. We feel that the Japanese are most unsure of themselves."

In another message, he said: ". . . Forgive me, my dear friend, for presuming to press such a course upon you, but I am convinced that it might make all the difference and prevent a melancholy extension of the war."

Well, it seems that while the British assumed that negotiations were taking place to avoid a war, what we now know to be an ultimatum was handed to the Japanese. Secretary Stimson's diary says:

"On the morning of the 27th of November, 1941—the first thing in the morning I called up Mr. Hull to find out what his final decision had been with the Japanese, whether he had handed them the new proposal, o whether, as he suggested yesterday, he had broken the whole matter off. He told me how he had broken the whole matetr off, as he put it, 'I have washed my hands of it and it is now in the hands of you and Knox, the Army and the Navy.'"

General Marshall further testified:

"My recollection is, and I have a fairly clear recollection of our disappointment, that from the military point of view, meaning Army and Navy, that we would not gain any more time; our relationship to these discussions was on the one side the desire to gain as much time as we possibly could and on the other to see that commitments were not made that endangered us from a military point of view."

There is more and more of this and history will record these events very differently from what the American people were told at the time. Much occurred that even high officers of state, Stimson, Welles, Marshall did not know, to say nothing of congress or the American people. It ought not to be like that. We need to know.

Spare the Machine And Spoil the Child

A New York inventor has secured a patent on a mechanical paddling machine.

Soon we may have a generation of children untouched by human hand.

The device consists of a revolving rubber paddle operated by a foot pedal. The deluxe model, one supposes, boasts a recording apparatus which simultaneously assures Junior that this is hurting you worse than him.

The mechanical paddler may be just what the nation needs, it being significant that juvenile delinquency has risen as the razor strop has disappeared.

Gas and oil heat are mighty convenient but there was a lot to be said for the woodshed.

Still, as the world hails the inventor of the mechanical paddler, one can hear a host of juvenile voices raised in inquiry: "It's ingenious, yes . . . . . but is it progress?"

The Unfolding Pattern

By STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—It is dismaying to learn what lay behind the sudden outcrop of violent insults directed against the American leaders in a recent issue of the Soviet "Literary Gazette," which brought forth a formal protest from American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith. For according to reports reaching Washington from Moscow, there is solid evidence that the abuse was inspired by no less a person that Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.

"The Literary Gazette" is the organ of the Union of Soviet Writers, a body which has for some months been undergoing an extensive purge. The Soviet literary men, already sufficiently cowed by the purge, were recently informed that Stalin himself was displeased by the quality of the magazine. They were given to understand that this ominous displeasure would only be softened if the magazine in future had a far more "political and anti-Western content."

The Soviet writers, not unsurprisingly, hastened to comply. In the next issue of the magazine, the President of the United States was said to "vie for the laurels of the little corporal of Munich." Secretary of State George C. Marshall was described as "The Shylock of Wall Street." General Dwight Eisenhower was said to "speak with the voice of Hitler." And so on.

Wasted Words

Ambassador Smith's protest was of course fruitless, and the incident is now no doubt closed. Yet Stalin's reported part in it is interesting as a symptom, and as part of a larger pattern. For it is quite evident, not only from this incident but from the whole course of Soviet policy in recent months, that Stalin has made a fateful decision.

At one time Stalin, unlike most of those around him, undoubtedly considered the possibility of limited cooperation with the West, at least for tactical purposes. That time is past. The Soviet Union is now waging tireless political warfare against the West and above all against the United States. Reflecting this decision, the world Communist parties may no longer cooperate, however tentatively, with the democratic parties. Instead, they must prepare for the revolutionary moment.

The little group of Russian experts in Moscow and Washington first sensed this final, decisive shift in both the Soviet and Communist lines as early as last April. In that month a series of articles began to appear in Moscow's "Pravda."

The series consisted largely of a reprinting of Nicolai Lenin's "April Theses," accompanied by a significant interpretation by "Pravda's" editors. The theses were written by Lenin in April, 1917. The short-lived Kerensky regime was then in power, and for the first time the Russian Communist party was a legal political party. A number of the lesser party leaders were therefore proposing that there was no longer need for the traditional tactics of conspiracy and violence. Rather, they argued, the party must concentrate on winning the broad support of the masses, and thus by legal means gain control of the Parliament and the government. In his April Theses, Lenin blasted these weaklings.

The bourgeoisie and their Social Democratic tools, he said, could never be overthrown, except by violence. The Social Democratic government must be undermined to prepare the way for the revolutionary moment and the seizure of full power by the Communists. Moreover, these tactics did not concern Russia alone.

"There is one and only one kind of internationalism in deed; working wholeheartedly for the development of the revolutionary movement and the revolutionary struggle and supporting such and only such a struggle and such a line in every country without exception." So wrote Lenin in 1917, as reprinted by "Pravda" in 1947.

Applied to 1947

"Pravda" noted carefully that Lenin's 1917 words were fully "applicable to the world situation" of 1947. It remarked also on the "anarchy and deepening crisis of Western capitalism." And it pointed out that by following Lenin's tactics in 1917 the party became sufficiently powerful in a few short months to organize the revolution and the full seizure of power by November.

The policy of the Soviet Union and the policy of the world Communist parties are two sides of the same coin. Thus the Russian experts believe that the "Pravda" series foreshadowed the increasingly aggressive policy of the Kremlin, of which the abuse in the "Literary Gazette" and the recent furious Vishinsky speech in the United Nations are symptoms. It also foreshadowed the fate of such anti-Communist "Social Democrats" in eastern Europe as Maniu, Nagy and Petkov. Finally, it foreshadowed the new Communist line in the non-Soviet world, and especially in Italy and France. In Italy, Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti, who once, like the objects of Lenin's wrath in 1917, preached "legality," has now told his followers to be prepared to fight. In France last month, the central committee of the Communist party decided that its ideology must be reoriented along revolutionary lines, and that French Communists "should resolve to welcome the epithet Stalinist."

Thus the pattern unfolds. The great Communist bid for power in western Europe will come this winter. As to whether or not it succeeds, more depends on the United States than on Josef Stalin and his fellow strategists in the Kremlin.

K-9 Corps Dwindles to 254

By JANE EADS

ONLY 254 members of the Army's K-9 corps have been kept in service and these are romping out their days at Front Royal, Va.

Some 19,094 dogs were recruited by the Army at the time of the corps' inception in 1942. Of this number 10,526 measured up to specifications, were trained and put into service.

Some of the dogs were purchased. Their average price was around $50. Some were donated by patriotic owners.

"Dogs for Defense" contributed a large number. It was a private organization headed by Mrs. Eileen Erlanger of New York, who later served as an advisor to K-9.

All K-9 recruits had to weigh about 50 pounds and be from 23 to 24 inches high at the shoulder. The age range was from 14 months to three and a half years at time of enlistment.

Originally, five breeds were acceptable. These were German and Belgian Shepherd, doberman pinscher, collie and giant schnauzer. They were trained for either scout or patrol work.

Later recruits were limited to the German shepherd, which through the war years proved to be better all around for handling and training purposes. Also the color of its coat, almost a camouflage in itself, won it first consideration.

Scout dogs were especially useful in jungle fighting in the South Pacific, where they could scent a man 300 to 400 yards away. Trained to alert and point without barking or whimpering, they saved hundreds of our boys from walking into Japanese ambush.

Patrol, or sentry, dogs were trained to attack, were one-man dogs, quick and fierce.

These last were hardest to return to civilian life. They had to be detrained before they could be considered safe, and a few had to be killed.

Of the dogs enlisted in K-9, some 2,290 were war casualties. Scores were wounded.

Twenty-five were awarded citations for various acts of heroism or extreme intelligence. One of these was Peefka, a German shepherd belonging to Kenneth W. Hayward, an upper New Hampshire state policeman.

He alerted to a German ambush in Italy and warned our detachment, which skirted the ambush and attacked from the rear. Peefka had been wounded, but no one knew. He had been trained not to whimper or bark.

On the road back he alerted a second time. It was then the soldiers noted his wound. Too late. Even a transfusion could not save his life.

Of the remaining dogs who had served in K-9 many were returned to their owners. The others were sold by War Assets Administration at auction.

Missing Link Sought

By The Associated Press

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa—A hunt for the Missing Link has started with the arrival in South Africa of Dr. Charles L. Camp, leader of the University of California Africa Expedition.

"It is premature yet to say whether the remains found in the Sterkfontein caves in the Transvaal are ape or man, but they at least open the possibility of being on the trail of the missing link between ape and man," said Dr. Camp, who is director of the museum of palaeontology at California university.

The expedition will split into three parts. One will work in South Africa, one in East Africa and one in Egypt. They plan to study man's family tree at the period of about 1,000,000 years ago in the Transvaal, at 20,000,000 years ago in Kenya and 30,000,000 years ago at the Yaifum Depression, 70 miles southwest of Cairo.

This three-pronged attack, says Dr. Camp, shows how strong is the impression among scientists that Africa and not Asia is the cradle of the human race.

ELMER TWITCHELL, well known [illegible] fan, stamp collector, statesman and [illegible] player recently stirred to new heights of [illegible] nation over a clam eating contest at [illegible] City in which a woman won the clam [illegible] a total of 186 in 30 minutes. Atomic Power Called Distant

By The Associated Press

...TROIT, Oct. 6—David E. ...ent said today the develop... ...n atomic power industry ...a long way off and the fact ...re possibility should not ... present "sound expansion" of the electrical industry.

In an address prepared for the Economic club of Detroit, the chairman of the U. S. atomic energy commission said it has found there is a "jungle of difficult scientific and engineering problems" to be cut through before the first commercially practical atomic power plant can be attained.

It is probable that within 12 to 24 hours electric power on a demonstration basis will be produced from atomic energy, he said, but emphasized:

"What is certainly and definitely not near at hand are large-scale, practical commercial applications of power from atomic energy."

Hits at Rumors

Lilienthal said he believed it of international importance to make "a frank statement" because stories are being spread abroad that the United States could keep Europe from a cold winter and solve its heat and energy problems by releasing its atomic secrets.

"Now this story is completely without foundation in fact," he went on. "It is an important purpose of my remarks here today to say just that, and to state in outline the scientific and engineering reasons why no one can count on atomic energy to solve the fuel problems of Europe and England within the foreseeable future."

The technical problems are so many and so great, Lilienthal said, that a commercially practical atomic power plant "is not just around the corner, not around two corners."

This Is National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week

There is hardly a business, shop, factory or organization in Marion that cannot employ disabled veterans to do a job as well as unimpaired employees. It's just good business to consider this before you hire your next man!

IF YOU NEED WORKERS:

Get in touch with the Ohio State Employment Service (Phone 1681) when you have jobs to fill. Ability of the individual impaired job applicant—his skills, experience, and physical capacity must be weighed against the requirements of the specific job. BUT THIS IS TRUE IN THE INDIVIDUAL, not just an impaired person. THE ESSENTIAL CONSIDERATION IS THAT THE NATURE OF THE IMPAIRMENT BE CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD.

LEGION HEAD BACKS BONUS AND TRAINING

Kenton and Mt. Gilead Men Named to Posts.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 6—Support of universal military training and a drive for a bonus for Ohio World War II veterans was pledged today by Aaron J. Halloran, new state commander of the American Legion.

The Legion's executive committee yesterday approved a resolution asking Ohio voters to "reject the thinking of Sen. Robert A. Taft on the subject of military training."

Martin V. Coffey of Middletown, national executive committeeman, said the resolution was directed against opposition to military training voiced Thursday at Caspar, Wyo., by Taft.

Halloran, who took office yesterday, supported his stand on the Legion bonus drive by appointing outgoing State Commander Don W. Schoeppe of Warren the state chairman of a special Legion organization to get veterans favoring the bonus to the polls Nov. 4.

Other officers installed yesterday were:

Carl W. Smith of Kenton and J. D. Sawyer of Middletown, vice commanders; T. McDonald Jones, Youngstown, treasurer and Rabbi Michael Aaronsohn, Cincinnati, chaplain.

Bruce Henderson, Warren attorney was appointed judge advocate.

Among district commanders installed was Tom Campbell Sr., of Mt. Gilead.

Vets Warned To Refund GI Bill Overpayments

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—The veterans administration said today it will stop all unemployment payments to former students who received too much money while going to school under the GI bill and decline to pay it back.

The agency ruled recently that war veterans may not re-enter schools or job-training this fall under the GI bill unless they make good such overpayments.

The VA estimated that half a million veterans have been overpaid almost $50,000,000,000, but said this is being repaid at the rate of $5,000,000 a month.

Veteran students who have already made arrangements to repay their indebtedness will not be affected.

Truman Food Plea Highlights

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 — Here are highlights from President Truman's food conservation appeal last night:

The nations of western Europe will soon be scraping the bottom of the food barrel. They cannot get through the coming winter and spring without help—generous help—from the United States and from other countries which have food to spare.

* * *

If the peace should be lost because Americans failed to share their food with hungry people there would be no more tragic example in all history of a peace needlessly lost.

* * *

Another reason for conserving food is to aid in controlling inflationary spirals and in preventing undue price burdens for our people at home.

* * *

Grain prices naturally respond to the law of supply and demand, but they should not be subject to the greed of speculators who gamble on what may be ahead in our commodity markets * * * The cost of living in this country must not be a football to be kicked about by gamblers in grain.

* * *

I am instructing the commodity exchange commission * * * to demand of the grain exchanges that they increase their margin requirements to at least 33⅓ per cent. If the grain exchanges refuse, the government may find it necessary to limit the amount of trading.

* * *

All segments of our population must make their contribution toward saving grain.

* * *

Farmers must cooperate by reducing the amount of grain now used to feed their livestock and poultry.

* * *

The distillers in this country have on hand huge stocks of distilled spirits, and it will be no handicap on them to shut down for a 60-day period. This action alone will feed millions of hungry people.

* * *

week. Two meatless days would tend to standardize five days of meat eating, he said.

"We have more cattle on the ranges than ever before," he said. "What is needed now is an artificial means of forcing them into the nation's markets. Government price controls and the power to requisition cattle would do the trick."

Shortly before President Truman spoke last night the CIO announced that the high cost of living was listed as the major problem for its ninth constitutional convention opening in Boston next week.

The union is expected to demand restoration of some price and rationing controls. Officials said the alternative is another drive for the third round of wage increases since the end of the war.

HOG PRICE TOUCHES HIGH

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6 — Hog prices soared to an all-time high of $30.25 per hundredweight today at Cleveland Union stockyards when the rate for good butcher swine weighing 180 to 270 pounds reached that level. The previous record of $30.00 per hundredweight was set for the first time Sept. 11 and equalled last Thursday and Friday.

The ancient Greeks and Romans used cork for floats and life preservers.

TRUMAN

derson and Secretary of Commerce Harriman added their voices, and their serious faces, to the four-network, half-hour broadcast. The microphones and cameras were placed in the basement oval room at the White House, where President Roosevelt once delivered his fireside chats, and it was the first television broadcast in history from the Executive Mansion.

The most eagerly awaited response, that of the leaders of the big grain exchanges, did not immediately arrive.

J. O. McClintock, president of the Chicago board of trade and unofficial spokesman as well for the other major markets in Kansas City and Minneapolis, declined comment immediately.

For weeks McClintock has waged verbal battle with Secretary Agriculture Anderson, who required that exchanges require a 33 1/3 per cent margin on grain sales for future delivery.

The Chicagoan contended price increases were caused by government buying for export and heavy domestic demand. Not speculation. Under government pressure the Chicago exchange adopted a "sliding scale" under which down payments go up as grain prices rise, but not to the level asked by Anderson.

Mr. Truman did not request, he demanded. The cost of living "must not be a football to be kicked about by gamblers in grain," he said.

Mrs. Porter Elected By Harmonie Guild

Mrs. Arlie Porter was elected president of Harmonie Guild of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church Wednesday in the parsonage home of Mrs. Emil C. Klutey on East Church street. Mrs. Jacob Ebert was elected vice president; Mrs. Curtis Pace, secretary, and Mrs. Paul Kurr, treasurer. Special mention was made of the fact that Mrs. Agnes Washam, retiring secretary, had served in that capacity for the guild 26 years. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. William Elbling.

Announcement was made of a fall regional educational workers conference at Sycamore Nov. 5. Greetings from Christian A. Baeta of Togoland, Africa, were read by Mrs. Klutey in which thanks was expressed to the denomination for missionary workers, hymn books and Testaments sent there. A number was presented by the Ladies' chorus. Mrs. Wilfred Orton was a guest. Mystery box award went to Mrs. Washam. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Porter.

WRITER SATISFIED WITH ARMY REPORT

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—Columnist Robert C. Ruark said today he was "reasonably satisfied with the overall result" of his series of articles in Army life in Italy which prompted an Army investigation of Lieut. Gen. John C. H. Lee's command.

Maj. Gen. Ira Wyche, Army inspector general, released his report last Friday saying he had found Ruark's charges and criticism of Gen. Lee unfounded. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower also issued a report saying that certain conditions objected to by enlisted men had been corrected.

Ruark disclosed today that the information in the series was submitted to Gen. Lee's own press relations officers three weeks before the first article was published.

"I informed his own public relations staff of the information I had," Ruark said. "I spent two hours cross-checking the facts. Lee's own 'responsible' officer knew fully what I had. They knew what I intended to do with it and were unable to refute the truth of my material. That, I think, takes care of the guff about my 'irresponsible' witnesses."

Ruark cited news dispatches since his series of articles which reported food for enlisted men had improved, Italians had replaced American MP's for traffic duty, non-residents were not allowed to visit Viareggio, wives had ceased using government transportation for shopping tours, "Gen Lee had mislaid six personal sedans and was driving his own jeep" and many other conditions had been improved.

4TH DISTRICT SEES BIG RACE

G. O. P. Hopefuls in Special Congress Election Promise Hot Contest.

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Oct. 6—A spirited race was in prospect today between William M. McCullough of Lima, who is described as a strong vote-getter, and Dewey Fetter of Lima for the Republican nomination in tomorrow's special congressional primary in the Fourth district.

Although interest has lagged in the contest to elect a successor to Robert F. Jones of Lima, who resigned his congressional seat for membership on the federal communications commission, observers here said Fetter's strength has increased considerably of late.

Fetter resigned as a member of the Allen county election board to run on the popular McCullough, former speaker of the Ohio house who saw service as an attorney with the AMG overseas.

May Get Lead

Strong support of Fetter in populous Allen county would give him a lead which McCullough would be pressed to overcome in the other five counties of the district, observers pointed out.

Although Republicans have only two candidates in the race, the Democrats have four.

Joseph B. Quatman of Lima was rated a good chance of besting the others—Roy E. Harmony of Sidney, Reuben H. Dickman of New Bremen, and Paul C. Christie of Delphos—although Christie has strong support in his county.

Nominees will oppose each other for Jones' former seat at the special election scheduled Nov. 4 to coincide with the general election.

Registration of voters here has averaged about 60 daily for the past two weeks, election officials said, after an appellate court decision reopened lists previously declared closed by an attorney general's ruling.

Vet Brings Action

The ruling was given shortly after Gov. Thomas J. Herbert proclaimed the special primary and election last Sept. 9. A war veteran who was not allowed to register brought the action which reopened the lists.

Election officials said those registering through last Thursday night would be eligible to vote in both the primary and special election, but those signing up Friday and Saturday would be eligible only for the Nov. 4 voting.

Observers reported that organized labor has not played a conspicuous role in pre-election campaigning although unions are strong here.

A late development was unanimous endorsement of McCullough by the Miami county Republican central and executive committees, their first for a congressional aspirant.

Besides Allen and Miami counties, the district is composed of Auglaize, Darke, Mercer and Shelby counties.

SPURN TRUMAN APPEAL

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6—President Truman's appeal for food conservation found little support among Cleveland housewives, a telephone poll indicated in the sampling of public opinion taken by the Cleveland Plain Dealer that they were doubtful that the program was feasible.

There are approximately 400,000 schoolboard members in the United States.

Waldo Stays Unbeaten In County Diamond Loop

Waldo emerged unbeaten in the county boys' baseball league by blasting Pleasant, 8-3, at Pleasant Friday.

Waldo scored all eight runs in the first inning off two walks, five hits, and one hit-by-pitcher, while Pleasant made their three in the sixth off an error, a walk, and a double by Meyers which he stretched into a homer on an overthrow to the home plate.

Green Camp knocked Kirkpatrick, 7-3, to end up third in the league.

By virtue of their placing first and second in league standings, Waldo and Pleasant will draw a bye in the first games of the league play next spring, which Caledonia and Morral schools are expected to enter along with the four county schools now in the league.

DAYTON MAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF I.T.U.

Akron Delegate Opposes Action Attacking Labor Bill.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 6—Carl Perry of Dayton won the presidency of the Ohio Typographical conference yesterday in a finale to a two-day meeting during which Reece Highfield of Akron told the printers Akron members of the craft wouldn't go along with the AFL International Typographical union's "no contract" policy.

"We're going ahead to negotiate and sign contracts in Akron," the delegate declared during a discussion on the use of the word "damnable" in a resolution referring to the Taft-Hartley law.

Sole delegate to express himself in this manner, Highfield questioned the use of the word, asserting the law in its entirety "has not been proven that bad."

"I wouldn't blame any employer for refusing to bargain when a union says it will not sign a contract," Highfield said.

Highfield was defeated as an "independent" candidate for ITU vice president at a recent Cleveland convention.

Other officers of the conference:

Marvin Kleinhenz, Cleveland, vice president; Robert Moore, Columbus, secretary-treasurer, who won by 20 votes to 13 over Earl Sheets, Akron.

Youngstown was selected as the April convention site.

Fred P. Haas of 292 Forest Lawn boulevard was delegate from the local union to the Ohio Typographical conference held Saturday and Sunday at the Commodore Perry hotel in Toledo. Mr. Haas served as chairman of the auditing committee. Mr. Haas is an employe of the composing room of The Star.

Case of the Stranger in the Old Clock Tower

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

ALBERT LEA, Minn.—Every small city across America has its unsolved mystery, and here it's the "case of the stranger in the clockhouse tower."

The custodian of this mystery is old Bill Broteke, 61, janitor at the Freeborn county courthouse.

It was Bill who found the corpse of the mysterious stranger hanging in the pigeon - haunted clockhouse atop the 1887 courthouse, and therefore it is Bill's story. He has told it hundreds of times in the last 10 years, but is always glad to talk over the case again. It is a fascinating excuse for putting his long-handled dust mop aside for a spell.

Hal Boyle

"I guess it was just the most exciting thing that ever happened in my life," said Bill. "I sure don't want to find no more people hanging in that tower.

"I probably wouldn't have found him when I did—and he'd been there for days, too—if it hadn't been for the barber. It was the barber first noticed that the clock was forty minutes late.

Have 2 Theories

"Local historians agreed that the courthouse clock always (a) either stopped running altogether or (b) if it did run, it lost only one minute a day.

"I went up to see why it had lost 40 minutes," said Bill. "It was the Sixth of July and the weather had been muggy for days."

Climbing up the stairs through a storm of pigeons, he paused at the trapdoor leading into the clocktower. A sickening odor suddenly enveloped him. Bill pushed open the trapdoor and—

"There was a dead man hanging behind me."

He hung silently by a brand new rope from a wooden two-by-four over the east face of the clock. They cut him down, put him in a rubber bag and lowered him to the courthouse lawn by block and tackle.

"You never saw such a crowd," said Bill. "I'll bet there were 500 people there."

The life-sick stranger had removed all identification marks from his clothing. He was about 35 years old, wore glasses and was well-dressed. Apparently he was a transient who had walked to the courthouse from a nearby railroad station and somehow worked his way unseen up into the clockhouse tower. Unidentified, he went to a pauper's grave.

Old Bill doesn't wonder much any more over who the mysterious stranger was, or what dark problem drove him to the lonely tower and his strange rendezvous with death. What puzzles Bill is why the stranger wanted to make time stand still for 40 minutes.

"He must have stopped the clock pendulum when he first went into the tower," said Bill, picking up his mop again. "And he set it going again—on purpose—just before he hanged himself. Why did he want the clock to stop those 40 minutes?"

Upper Girl Scouts Open Fall Season

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 6—Fifty-one members of the Wyandot County Girl Scout association assembled at the Bow and Arrow Tuesday evening, for their first dinner meeting of the new 1947-48 year. Thirteen new leader were welcomed into the membership of the association.

Following dinner, Mrs. Paul Stephan, commissioner, opened the business session by asking each committee chairman to meet with members of her committee to make tentative plans for the year's work. Two color films of the Scouts at Camp Pittenger were shown and enjoyed.

Mrs. Clarence Henige announced that local Girl and Boy Scouts are invited to join in the Harding Memorial Pilgrimage at Marion, October 12. Mrs. F. M. Kenan, training chairman, announced Oct. 21 as the date set for the first leaders' training meeting at her home. Mrs. Kenan also presented a Girl Scout pin to each new board member present.

...Local officers are Miss Mary K. In addition, there are a number of committee chairmen who, with the officers, make up the executive board of the club.

It is pointed out by officials of the local group that the Marion club and its members are typical of the wider national group in that a great variety of accomplishments and occupations is represented therein. Numbered among its members are several owners of their own businesses, a county official, teachers, secretaries representing a variety of businesses and industries, county home demonstration agent, directors and teachers of religious education, purchasing agent for a sanitarium, photographic studio assistant, bookkeepers and accountants, radio program director and reporter.

President's Statement

A statement by Miss Sally Butler, national president, pertains to what the organization has done in the past and what is to be done in the future, aims and goals to which every local unit is looking forward.

"Over the past years our Federation has developed and trained women to work together, to stand by one another, and to achieve new aims as a group," said Miss Butler. "Our work tomorrow must continue to interest, through constructive action business and professional women who as yet have not become associated with our membership. Our great challenge for tomorrow is to find and interest more women who are equal to the responsibilities of public service."

Membership of the Marion club is also typical of the larger group of working women in this country in the fact that approximately one-half are married. "We face tomorrow" in the knowledge that more and more married women will be working, effecting to a wide extent laws that will be pasbsed. The local group hopes soon to present to its members authorative information on "equal pay and equal opportunity" for women in business and industry which will be a subject for future legislation.

Besides health and safety and legislation, the local club has departments interested in bettering public affairs, increasing, and assisting in women's opportunities in education and vocations, and in promoting more intelligent understanding and use of radio and news services.

STEEL HEAD SEES SLOW OUTPUT HIKE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6—President C. M. White of Republic Steel Corp. said today that if the steel industry attempted to sizably increase its production, it would be at least two years before the first results were realized.

"In view of the fact that steel is urgently needed today, the promise of steel two years from now holds little comfort," he told the annual convention of the American Gas association.

He said the nation's economy would be on a "much sounder basis" if the industry produced at the highest possible level with present facilities.

To increase nationwide production by 10,000,000 net tons annually, 1,500,000 tons of finished steel would have to be taken from present production for necessary new furnaces, mills and other facilities, White continued.

"And under today's high construction costs," the corporation president asserted, "the 1,000,000 tons of increase—which might be regarded as Republic's share of the national total—would represent an investment of well over $200,000,000."

White said that as a result, steel turned out in the new facilities would have to be priced at least $20 a ton higher than current rates.

Republic now is producing 17 per cent more than it was capable of turning out in 1939 and since V-E day has made commitments totaling $108,500,000 for expansion and improvement, he told the opening session of the three-day convention.

Royal Wedding Service To Contain Word 'Obey'

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 6—The word "obey" will not be omitted from Princess Elizabeth's marriage vows when she is wed to Lt. Philip Mountbatten on Nov. 20.

Although an alternative marriage service used in church of England ceremonies omits the word, the form of service used at the royal wedding will be that specified in the book of common prayer, Buckingham palace announced yesterday.

Under this form the bride promises to "love, cherish and obey."

The music of favorite composers wil provide the settings for the "Musical Portraits" which will open the series of entertainment programs sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, Tuesday night at Edison Junior High school. Done in costume, the program will be presented by a group of vocal and instrumental artists, and will include the best known works of famous composers in opera and operetta. The program is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. Doors will open at 7:30.

Following the introduction by the ensemble Miniature No. 1 will be a studio rehearsal with a musical setting by Jerome Kern. For the second miniature the presentation will be an operaloque, "Swan Song," and completing the first part of the program will be "Springtime in Markova," with Victor Herbert music and incidental specialty numbers.

Following the intermission "Reunion in Zuravic," will be presented and the music will be by Emerich Kalman. This miniature also will have incidental specialty numbers. Sigmund Romberg compositions will be used in "Love on the Rebound," and the program will close with a grand finale by the ensemble.

Season tickets are being sold by the members of $3 for the series of four programs. Single admissions also are available at $1.25 for each number.

Miss Martha Fabian, ticket chairman, will be at the office of the Economy Savings & Loan Co. tonight until 9:30 o'clock to receive ticket reports and for the sale of series or single admission tickets.

BUCYRUS CATTLEMEN SUED FOR $30,586

Four Defendants Named in Fraud Charges.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 6—H. E. Sherk, local livestock dealer, who was released from Kenton jail under bond recently after being a prisoner since February on a check passing charge, was named party defendant in an action for money filed in common pleas court here Friday by Charles Contris of Lafayette, O.

Contris asks judgment of $30,586 charging fraud in connection with several cattle deals. Defendants named with Sherk are the Farmers and Citizens bank, J. E. Faulkner and E. J. Pfleiderer, the latter a livestock dealer with whom Sherk was associated.

Sherk was released from Kenton jail a week ago under $5,000 bond. A huge bankruptcy petition is pending against him in Cleveland.

The check passing charge, the outgrowth of cattle dealings, was filed by the Kenton Farmers Marketing Co.

BOGOTA, Colombia, Oct. 6 — Political clashes in which four persons were killed and six wounded yesterday caused three cities to postpone municipal elections and several other towns to suspend balloting until the situation quieted down.

JR. TOUCH FOOTBALL ENDS FIRST ROUND

First round of the city touch football play ended Saturday with Greenwood, Forest Lawn, Mark, North Main, Oakland, and Glenwood emerging winners.

A pass from Nash sent Hall over for a Greenwood touchdown and a 6-2 win over Pearl. Chamberling caught Nash behind his goal for the Pearl safety.

Forest Lawn took George Washington, 13-7, with Forest Lawn drawing first blood after Mounts recovered a fumble on the G.W. goal line. Creager came right back to score for George Washington, going around left end for 15 yards and the touchdown. Krieger plunged for the extra point. Mitten took a pass in the final quarter and moved Forest Lawn ahead. Miller made the extra point.

Bibler went over three times for Mark as they swamped Olney, 21-6. Obernour converted twice, and Bosh once for Mark. Single Olney score was made by Pierce.

North Main unloosed an aerial attack that clicked for two touchdowns as they defeated Oak, 24-12. B. Smith chucked two winning passes, to S. Mooney and R. Mooney, and intercepted an Oak aerial for a third touchdown. B. Smith recovered a fumble on the goal line for the last North Main score. Freshour and Brown favored the ground to score the two Oak touchdowns.

Silver fell before Oakland, 18-7. Silver's single touchdown was made on a pass from Waits to Hunt, with Waites converting. Oakland passes, from Brady to Craft, Irvine to Smith, and Irvine to Bar, accounted for Oakland's scores.

St. Mary won over Glenwood, 1-0, by a forfeit.

OHIO REPUBLICANS RAISING TAFT FUND

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—Ohio Republicans were reported ready today to raise $750,000 for a "home grown" campaign to get Senator Robert A. Taft the Republican presidential nomination.

His announcement that he will be a candidate is expected at a meeting of the state G.O.P. central committee Oct. 24 in Columbus.

As soon as Taft agrees to become the state's favorite son at the national convention next June in Philadelphia, his campaign backers will signal for action all along the political front. They say their efforts will be financed almost exclusively with Ohio money.

The Ohio senator himself is said to be reluctant to accept contributions from outsiders. He also has stipulated that nobody will be permitted to put up more than $500.

Taft's decision to run, on the basis of a six-state western tour he ended Sunday with his return to Cincinnati, was regarded as such a foregone conclusion that plans are said to be well advanced for an active drive on his behalf.

The Ohio senator goes on the radio tonight (9:30 p. m.) in a long range debate with Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) about which political party is to blame for high prices. Taft will be at the microphone in Cincinnati, O'Mahoney in Denver.

During more than a score of speeches in California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming, Taft contended the blame belongs to President Truman's administration.

Would Funeral Cost Be a Problem . . . ?

The continuing rise in the cost of everything necessary to bare existence has eaten heavily into the resources of many families. For some it creates a serious problem when the need for funeral service arises.

At the Hughes Funeral Home you will find that ample provision has been made to meet all such needs. There is a very wide range of prices in our display room and each covers all items usually required in a complete funeral.

One reason those prices can be kept low is that careful management holds our own cost of doing business far below the average. If you would like further information on this subject, come in and talk it over.

Cubs Lose Playoff Series

Bryant's Dodgers Whip Cubs 3 Straight To Make Sweep of '47 League Campaign

All season fans of the Ohio State league asked, "What's holding Zanesville up?" Whatever it was, it continued to support the Dodgers well as Clay Bryant's crew knocked the Marion Cubs three straight games Saturday and Sunday to win the Shaughnessy playoffs, four games to two.

It was the fiery Bryant's fourth straight playoff victory, his third for Zanesville. In 1944 he piloted the Newark club to a playoff victory after finishing second in the league race.

Saturday afternoon the Dodgers whipped the Cubs, 10-7, in the last complete game of the season at Lincoln park. Saturday night's encounter was called because of rain in the fourth inning with the score knotted at one-all.

Rally Proves Fatal

A six-run Zanesville rally in the sixth inning Saturday afternoon proved too much for the locals, despite a two-run homer by Maxhimer in the eighth.

Sandy Lambert evened an old score against Frank Smith as he outpitched Marion's ace, 9-5, in the Sunday afternoon tilt at Newark.

Four Marion pitchers were a shade more ineffective than three Zanesville hurlers as the Dodgers won the clincher, 18-10. Bobzean's two-run homer was the best Marion blow of the game.

Cost Cubs $23.19

Losing cost the Cubs $23.19. Had they won, their share of the playoff booty would have been $92.73. Taking home second money, in both the regular season chase and the playoffs, the Bruins garnered $69.54 each.

One cent from each admission ticket sold in all eight parks during the season made a players' pool of $4,173 which was divided 30 per cent to Zanesville and 15 per cent to Marion. As playoff winners, Zanesville took another 25 per cent while the Cubs added another 15 per cent for their playoff performance.

The remaining 15 per cent of the pool will be divided 10 per cent to Muncie and five per cent to Springfield as third and fourth place finishers.

The Cubs also received approximately $35 each from an appreciation fund raised by local fans.

Interleague crown went to the Western Ohio Rifle league with 7,019 out of a possible 8,000 points. Six points behind was the Cleveland Civilian Marksmen's association.

FESLER TO CHANGE OHIO STATE DEFENSE

24-20 Beating from Purdue Alters Buck Plans.

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 6—Coach Wesley E. Fesler will change his Ohio State defense, but will retain his 5-4-2 setup as the basic Buckeye bulwark against running plays.

The former All-America end evidently has decided, after two early-season tests, that the unique formation doesn't hold all the answers. As a result, he plans to add some innovations to "take care of certain situations."

The peculiar defense leaked quite a bit in the opening game against Missouri, although Ohio came from behind in the closing minutes to grab a 13-7 victory in that one, with the Tiger passing threat just a passing fancy, the Bucks could concentrate on halting the ground attack—but Missouri still poured through the gaps for 231 yards.

Saturday, as the highly-favored Bucks fell, 24-20, before a Purdue team beaten the week before by Wisconsin, 32-14, the roof caved in.

The Boilermakers had a passer, Bob DeMoss, who was a continual threat until he went out with injuries. As a result the Bucks had to figure on defending on the ground and through the air, and the Purdues zoomed for 365 yards on the ground, staging sustained touchdown drives of 63, 78 and 77 yards.

So much did the underdog Purdues dominate the picture they held the ball for 70 plays, while the Bucks had it for only 46. However, with Dean Sensanbaugher getting away for scoring runs of 96 and 62 yards, the Bucks matched the Boilermakers in 6 pointers, the margin of victory being a field goal and a point after touchdown.

Fesler admitted "they gave our line an awful beating, and we'll have to make some changes."

He hastened to explain, however, the contemplated changes would not be in personnel, and that he was not abandoning the unorthodox 5-4-2 defense.

"We know we have our best boys in there," he said, "and we are convinced that the 5-4-2 is sound. We're going to add to it, however, to take care of certain situations. We have a lot of work to do to get set for Southern California."

Fesler said he was satisfied with the offensive maneuvers of his swashbuckling crew, but he had to find some way of halting the opposition.

"Saturday's game was a case of getting the ball and scoring," he said. "We came from behind three times, and so did Purdue, so it was a whale of a game for the spectators."

Southern California, next Saturday's foe in the Buck stadium, played a 7-7 tie with Rice last weekend. Sensanbaugher, who suffered a twisted ankle against Purdue, will be able to go Saturday, Fesler said after a checkup on the injured player yesterday.

Bucyrus Schedules Benefit for Player Who Lost His Leg

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 6—The management of the Green Hornets, Bucyrus' newly-organized semi-pro football team, has announced that in the near future a benefit game is to be played here, the proceeds of which are to be given to Wayne Phipps of Chardon's semi-pro team who lost a leg as a result of an injury in a game with the Hornets.

It was in the first quarter of the first game of the local team that Phipps suffered such a severe knee injury in a pile-up that it was necessary to amputate the leg in less than a week.

He is still confined to City hospital.

In his 23 title defenses Joe Louis has fought a total of six hours, 49 minutes and 40 seconds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—It's Hugh Casey and nine other Dodger hurlers against Floyd (One-Hit) Bevens of the Yankees today in the seventh game of the wildest World Series in many years.

What started out to be another steamroller job by the mighty New York club has turned into a down-to-the-last-out tingler that has half the nation babbling incoherently about characters named Lavagetto and Gionfriddo.

No Dodger pitcher has been able to last as long as five innings while New York has three complete jobs in six games. But the won and lost totals show three each way for both clubs.

Even for the seventh and final contest, Shotton has no semblance of a starting pitcher. Hal Gregg, who was moderately effective in two outings despite his grim 4-5 record for the season, probably is his best bet.

There's Always Casey

As long as good old Casey is willing to leave his Flatbush avenue saloon for a few hours every afternoon, Shotton doesn't have to worry about the late innings. Win, lose or draw, Casey is the man of the hour in Brooklyn.

After yesterday's 8-6 win that squared the series, Casey had to share the pedestal with little Al Gionfriddo. Stealing a base and scoring a run in Friday's victory should have been enough for Little "G" who played last summer only when somebody else was hurt.

GIONFRIDDO

Shotton, manipulating pinch hitters wildly, found himself with Ask DiMaggio second baseman Eddie Miksis playing left field in the middle of yesterday's sixth battle. At the start of the sixth he sent Gionfriddo out there for defensive purposes and he never made a better move.

With two men on and the Brooks leading, 8-5, Joe DiMaggio smacked one of the longest drives he ever hit in the Yankee stadium. It soared high and far toward the Brooklyn bull pen 415 feet away in deep left field but Little "G" was after it. Racing back Gionfriddo made a one-handed running catch that has been accepted by many wise baseball men as the best they ever saw.

Catch Is Ball Game

That turned out to be the ball game, for Casey soon was summoned from the shadowy bull pen to quiet the Yanks in a last-inning rally. Two were on and nobody out against lefty Joe Hatten, who held the fort after Vic Lombardi and Ralph Branca, the ultimate winner, failed. Casey yielded one score but retired the three men necessary to protect the vital winning edge.

That's all in the record books now, along with the crowd of 74,065, the largest ever to see a series game, and several assorted marks such as most pitcher in a game, 10.

Harris no longer is rich in pitchers, like he was three days ago. It has come down to Bevens, a so-so workman all season but a no-hit record-breaker for 8 2/3 frames Friday before Cookie Lavagetto wrecked his hopes with the first hit, a two-run double that beat him.

The Yanks go into the finale without their best hitter, Johnny Lindell, who had to leave in the third inning of the sixth game because he had aggravated a cracked rib. Lindell almost definitely will not be in the lineup and Harris has announced that Larry Berra, the rookie catcher who has given the Dodgers so much joy, will be in right field with Tommy Henrich in left and Aaron Robinson catching.

"PODUNK" BROWNS SHOW GRID YANKS

Whip Their Detractors, 26-17, for 4th Time.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6—The "Podunk" Cleveland Browns still were on top today in their grudge games with the New York Yankees.

The Frustrated New Yorkers have yet to win an All American football conference tussel from the team which Yankee Coach Ray Flaherty once termed "a Podunk team with a high school coach."

The Podunks and their coach, Paul Brown, spanked the Yanks, 26-17, yesterday before 80,067 for the Browns' fourth win in as many clashes with the easterners.

The Clevelanders didn't turn the trick without a struggle—they trailed at one point for the first time this season—but they had it when the blue chips were down.

The Yankees also displayed plenty of what polite people call intestinal fortitude, for after the Browns fashioned a 17-3 lead in the first half the Yanks roared back in the third quarter to knot the count at 17-all.

The Browns were equal to the challenge, however, and Otto Graham's touchdown pass and Lou (The Toe) Groza's field goal turned the tide for the champions.

Yesterday's 80,067 crowd was the second best in professional football history and established an all-time box office figure of $168,001.39. The Yankees and the Los Angeles Dons drew 82,765 for their battle in huge Memorial coliseum Sept. 12 but that attendance failed to surpass yesterday's at the box office because more seats are scaled at higher prices in Cleveland stadium.

Last year's playoff struggle between the Yank and Browns drew $171,163.91 into the cash boxes, but the figure included radio rights and program sales.

OSL Almost Winds Up Year's Baseball Season

The Ohio State league almost closed the professional baseball season this year.

Had the Yankees wound up the Series yesterday afternoon, the Marion-Zanesville playoff final would have been the last baseball game played in the country.

Today, only the final game of the World Series remains on the diamond program for the year.

TO HOLD DAIRY FIELD DAY FRIDAY IN MORROW CO.

All Day Session Opens at Dwight McClarren Farm.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Oct. 6—C. D. McClarren, dairy specialist from Ohio State university, will be the main speaker at the Morrow county Dairy Field day which will be held on Friday, Oct. 10.

This Field day will be sponsored by the Agriculture Extension service and the Morrow county Dairy Service Unit to give Morrow county dairymen the opportunity to get the latest information in connection with dairy problems.

The day's activities will begin at 9 a. m. at the Dwight McClarren Guernsey farm, one mile south of Iberia, on the Iberia-Mt. Gilead road. After looking over the herd and milking facilities those attending will judge a ring of three heifers. Mr. McGrew will then officially place the heifers and will give his reasons for the placings. This judging procedure will be followed at each of the other three stops.

At 10:30 a. m. the tour will move to the Paul Miller Ayrshire farm, which is four miles southwest of Edison on the old Marion road. At 12 o'clock the crowd will assemble at the Morrow county fairgrounds for a picnic lunch. Coffee and ice cream will be furnished by the Dairy Service Unit.

After lunch Mr. McGrew will speak on some pertinent phase of dairy work and will answer questions concerning dairy problems. At 2 p. m. the tour will stop at the A. L. Vaughn Jersey farm, located one-half mile east of the Friends church, and 3:30 will continue to the David Smith Holstein farm, one and one-half miles southeast of Fulton. It is expected that a large crowd will attend the tour which is the first of its kind to be held in Morrow county in several years.

All-Stars Nip Angels, 7-2

Penalty Robs Local Gridders of Score And Lets Them in for First Defeat

Marion Safety Cab Angels lost a tough decision to the Indianapolis 7-Up All Stars at Indianapolis yesterday, 7-2, before a crowd of about 500.

Their first defeat of the season almost turned out as an upset win over the favored All Stars as the Angels threatened to score touchdowns three times in the game, and actually did once, only to have the play nullified by a five-yard penalty.

After playing on the defensive for most of the first quarter, a long punt by Fred Ruhl put the All Stars in a hole, and after taking a return punt, passes from Ed Simmons to Max Roseberry carried the Angels to the All Star 20 where the All Star line tightened up. Cheney tried a field goal from the 7-Up 30 which fell short of the bar.

Safety for Angels

Halfway through the second period, a bad pass from center to King, punting for the All-Stars on the nine, went over King's head, and he was caught behind the goal line scoring a safety for the Angels.

The Angels drove over the goal late in the second quarter, only to be thwarted by a backfield in motion penalty. After Hodges had intercepted an All Star pass and ran the ball back to the enemy eight Boo Ivey knifed off tackle for the touchdown. The Angels couldn't make it again as the All Star line held.

Score Winning TD

The All Stars scored their winning touchdown when they intercepted a Simmons to Roseberry pass on the Angel 35. Four passes from King to Turner moved the ball over the goal, and another aerial from King to Turner connected for the conversion.

The Angels came back in the closing minutes of the game with a 55-yard sustained drive that carried them to the All Star six, but the final gun sounded before Simmons to Reams passes could make the touchdown.

MOST STOCKS FAVOR MARKET PLUS SIDE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—Selected stocks continued to operate in the plus column today although many market leaders contended unsuccessfully with profit realizing on the recent upswing.

The cloudy foreign picture, including formation of a new Communist International, remained as a restraining influence.

Dealings tapered after a moderately active opening and the trend was a trifle obscure near midday.

Ahead most of the time were Pacific Western Oil, Texas Co., Standard Oil (NJ), Northern Pacific, Anaconda, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Dow Chemical and Allied Chemical.

Occasional stumblers were Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Western Union, Standard Gas $4 preferred, American Smelting, J. C. Penney, Pepsi-Cola, N. Y. Central and Pennsylvania Railroad.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO

Proposing to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of the state of Ohio to provide for the payment of compensation by the state of Ohio to its residents who shall have served in the armed forces of the United States in World War II, or to their survivors, and to issue bonds of the state of Ohio to provide the funds therefor.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house thereof concurring therein, That there shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Ohio, in the manner prescribed by law at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1947, a proposition to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of the state of Ohio by adding thereto immediately after section 2a of said Article a new section as follows:

2b. The board of commissioners created by section 8 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the state of Ohio, designated therein "The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund", shall, forthwith upon the adoption of this amendment, proceed to issue and sell, from time to time, bonds of the state of Ohio in such amounts of face value as it may deem necessary to provide the funds, or such part thereof, as may be required to pay the compensation and the expenses of administering this section as herein provided for, provided, however, that the aggregate total amount of face value of bonds so issued shall not exceed three hundred million dollars. The full faith and credit of the state of Ohio is hereby pledged for the payment of such bonds. All bonds so issued shall mature in thirty semi-annual installments after the respective dates thereof, and the maturities thereof shall be so fixed that the total amounts of payments on account of principal and interest to be paid on each of such semi-annual installment payment dates shall be approximately equal, but no such bonds shall be issued or bear dates later than the first day of April, 1951. All bonds so issued shall bear interest at such rates as The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund may fix, which interest shall be payable semi-annually. Such bonds, and the interest thereon as income, shall be exempt from all taxes levied by the state of Ohio or any taxing district thereof. The bonds may, at the option of the Sinking Fund Commission, be issued subject to call on any interest payment date at par and accrued interest. All sales of such bonds by The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund shall be in accordance with such regulations as it shall make and promulgate, provided, however, that such bonds shall be sold only to the highest bidder or bidders therefor after notice of such sale shall have been published once each week for three consecutive weeks on the same day of each of such weeks, the first of such notices being published at least twenty-one full days before the date of sale, in a newspaper of general circulation in each of the eight most populous counties in the state of Ohio, and provided that each of such published notices shall state the day, hour and place of the sale, the total face value of the bonds to be sold, their denominations, dates, and the dates of their maturities, information relative to the rates of interest which the bonds will bear, and the dates upon which interest will be payable. The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund shall have the right to reject any or all bids and to readvertise and re-offer bonds for sale. Out of the proceeds of the sale of all bonds that amount which represents accrued interest, if any, shall be paid into the treasury of the state of Ohio into a fund to be known as the World War II Compensation Bond Retirement Fund. The balance shall be paid into the treasury of the state of Ohio into a fund to be known as the World War II Compensation Fund. The General Assembly of the state of Ohio may appropriate and cause to be paid into the World War II Compensation Bond Retirement Fund or the World War II Compensation Fund, out of the funds in the treasury of the state not otherwise appropriated, such amounts as it may deem proper for use upon order of The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund for the purposes for which such funds are created as herein provided. If the General Assembly should so appropriate any funds to the World War II Compensation Fund prior to the time The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund shall have issued bonds of the aggregate total amount of face value authorized in this section, the aggregate total amount of face value of bonds so authorized to be issued shall be reduced by the amount of the funds so appropriated.

During the period of fifteen years beginning January 1, 1949, the treasurer of state of the state of Ohio shall, without appropriation thereof by the General Assembly, transfer into said World War II Compensation Bond Retirement Fund one million dollars each month out of funds in the state treasury derived from taxes levied by the state for the purpose of providing revenues to defray the expenses of the state, excepting the taxes levied by the state by sections 5527, 5541, and 6291 of the General Code of Ohio as the same may be in effect on the effective date of this section. To secure such monthly transfer of funds a lien is hereby created upon all funds coming into the state treasury after January 1, 1949, derived from taxes as aforesaid, which lien shall be the first and best lien upon all such funds. It shall be the duty of the treasurer of state to set aside and use for the purpose of making such monthly transfer of funds, part of each dollar received in the state treasury in each calendar year during said period of fifteen years beginning January 1, 1949, derived from taxes as aforesaid, so that the total amount of money so set aside during each of such calendar years shall be twelve million dollars, and so that the ratio which the amount of each dollar so set aside shall bear to one dollar shall be the same as the ratio which the amount of twelve million dollars shall bear to the total amount of money received in the state treasury in such calendar years derived from taxes as aforesaid. The treasurer of state shall set aside such part of each such dollar before paying out, transferring or disposing of in any other manner, such dollar, or any part thereof for any other purpose whatsoever, and he shall make the transfer of one million dollars each month to the World War II Compensation Bond Retirement Fund, hereinabove provided for, out of said sum of twelve million dollars so set aside in each of such calendar years.

The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund shall on or before the first day of July in each calendar year, levy and certify to the auditor of the state of Ohio a state tax on all taxable property subject to taxation on the general tax lists of all counties in the state of Ohio for such year at such rate as it shall determine to be necessary to provide, together with other money which will be available in the World War II Compensation Bond Retirement Fund, the total amount of funds which will be required in the next following calendar year for the retirement of bonds and the payment of interest payable in such year. Such levy shall be in addition to all other taxes levied now or hereafter, within the period during which bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be outstanding, by or pursuant to law or any provision of the Constitution of the state of Ohio, and shall not be considered in applying any limitation or aggregate tax rates now or hereafter within the period during which bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be outstanding, provided by or pursuant to law or any provision of the Constitution of the state of Ohio. The auditor of state shall certify such levies to the auditor of each county in the state of Ohio, who shall extend the same on the tax line of his county for the year in which such levy is made and shall place same for collection on the tax duplicate of his county to be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes on such duplicate. Said taxes herein authorized, when collected, shall be paid into the World War II Compensation Bond Retirement Fund in the treasury of the state. The World War II Compensation Bond Retirement Fund shall be paid out, without appropriation thereof by the General Assembly of Ohio, upon the order of The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund for the purpose of the payment, or reimbursement in other manner, of said bonds and interest thereon.

The World War II Compensation Fund shall be paid out upon order of The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, without appropriation by the General Assembly of Ohio, in payment of the expenses of administering this section, and as compensation as follows: every person who shall have served in active duty in the armed forces of the United States at any time between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945, both dates inclusive, and who, at the time of commencing such service, was and had been a resident of the state of Ohio for at least one year immediately preceding the commencement of such service, and who shall have been separated from such service under honorable conditions, or who is still in such service, or who has been retired, and who was in such service for a period of at least ninety days, shall be entitled to receive compensation of ten dollars for each month during which such person was in active domestic service and fifteen dollars for each month during which such person was in active foreign service within said period of time; provided, however, that any person who was serving in active duty in the armed forces of the United States on the seventh day of December, 1941, and who did not receive at least ninety days thereafter because of a service connected injury or death shall be deemed to have served at least ninety days within the period of time commencing December 7, 1941 and ending September 2, 1945, and provided, further, that the maximum amount of compensation payable under this section shall not be in excess of four hundred dollars; and provided, further, that no compensation shall be paid under this section to any person who shall have received from another state a bonus or compensation of a like nature as is provided under this section. No compensation shall be paid under this section to any person for any periods of time spent under penal confinement during the period of

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

NOEL was at the door, and he was keyed up to concert pitch for his coming interview with Mary All of us could see that, bubt we carefully guarded our faces and our voices, made a mighty effort to be casual

'Mary' '

That was Noel's first word "Is she—all right' I—don't see her "

Behind the Door

"That's because you can't see through the bedroom door," Katharine said with a laugh "She's behind it, prinking with the make-up in your honor You're going to have your dinner tete-a-tete in there. She's perfectly all right, or will be when you go in there So—little boy—so long!"

She made a shooing motion with her hand, but Noel didn't need it, or even see it He was already at the door, and at his knock, Mary opened it, and with a silvery, joyous carol' "Noel!" drew him inside and the door closed on them

"And now it's on the lap of the gods," said Dicky.

"I hope the lap isn't slippery," Katharine commented dryly

"Im glad I had that extension wire put in," I added. "Mary can telephone her dinner order down without coming out here"

Won't Want Listeners

"No, they sure won't want any listeners-in for awhile," Dicky agreed "I'll bet ice cream sodas all around that they don't order dinner for another half-hour Any takers?"

"None," I told him, and Katharine nodded her agreement. "But that doesn't prevent us from ordering ours. I thought you were dying of starvation."

"I was," Dicky said, "but I'm getting used to the pangs However"—with great condescencion—"I'll not stand in your way of Katrina's I'll get busy."

He took up the menu and gave a little exclamation of pleasure

"Roast Long Island Duckling," he read. "They always do that so well here"

"I thought you'd spot that." I told him "It's the special for the day, isn't it?"

"Yes, and the other dishes with it look pretty good"

"They are,' I said "I'll double your order'

"And I'll triple it,' Katharine added

I put in the order, and when it came, we three sat down to a leisurely meal True to Dicky's prediction, Noel and Mary must have postponed ordering their dinner, for it was three-quarters of an hour before the room service waiter knocked on our door and brought in their table As I directed him to the bedroom, I turned an interested scutiny on the dishes, and noted with satisfaction that Noel and Mary also had ordered the roast duckling dinner.

Came Out Unscathed

They must have come out of their momentous interview comparatively unscathed, I told myself, and went back to my own after-dinner coffee with more contentment than I had deemed possible a minute before

'Stop your grinning, Cheshire Cat, and tell us the joke," Katharine admonished me

"It isn't a joke," I said, "but something very gratifying Mary said before dinner that she didn't know whether she and Noel would be dining off nightingales' tongues or gnawing bones on the floor, depending on the way he reacted to Dr Twitchell's interview with him But the very substantial duckling dinner for two that went in just now, encouraged me to think that—"

"'God's in is heaven, all's right with the world'" Katharine interrupted to quote "Mebbe so, mebbe so, but me, I wants proof Oh I don't doubt that Noel's in a perfectlyy huetable—probible heavenly—mood just now, but the hundred dollar question is, can Mary keep him that way?'

In Good Working Order

"By the Lord Harry!" Dicky exclaimed "If she can't, I can My good right arm, also the booted tie of my right foot are in good working order, and—"

"And you can't do a dratted thing, and you know it" Katharine told him "You know what happens to the innocent bystander who interferes between husband and wife'

'Oh, sure, sure'" Dicky said 'He gets his fool head knocked off"

"Just remember that," Katharine counselled, and then rose from her place with decision

"They'll be coming out after awhile" she said, "and there's no need of them having any extra audience I'm going over to my own apartment Call me there, Madge, when you think Mary needs me"
